Where is Elko?

Elko is nestled near the base of the Ruby Mountains in Northeastern Nevada's high desert, 5060 ft. above sea level. The recent discovery of rich gold deposits have drawn numerous residents to the valley along Interstate 80 and Elko now boasts a population of 20,000.

How do you get to Elko?

Gamblers fly round trip no airfare!

Fly to the fabulous Red Lion Inn & Casino in Elko, Nevada and enjoy excitement-packed gaming action! (Nevada-style entertainment and gaming.)

Most asked questions about our gaming trips - What's the catch?

No catch. The Red Lion Inn & Casino wants gamblers who are willing to gamble as little as $350.00 - win, lose or draw. The Red Lion will pay the airfare and you pay only for the cost of reservations, ground handling and rooms on an overnight trip.

What type of play does the casino expect?

To be invited back on future trips, the Casino expects you to play minimum bets of $5.00 on blackjack, craps or roulette. Slot machine players are expected to play DOLLAR and QUARTER machines.

How will the casino know if I play?

When you check in at the airport, you'll be given a Casino Express badge to wear during the entire trip. We request that you play only at the Red Lion Properties. Of course, the amount of time you play and the amounts you play will be monitored so that we can invite you back.

What if I play and don't qualify?

We'll keep our side of the bargain and fly you home at the Casino's expense, but you won't be invited back again.

Will I enjoy first-class service?

Of course! You'll enjoy first-class service all the way from our Red Lion rooms to the fine dining in Misty's to some of the friendliest casino employees in the business. The Red Lion wants you to take advantage of our gaming trips on Casino Express again and again.

What if I cancel my trip?

Simply notify the Casino Express office of your cancellation at least 48 hours before the flight and your money will be refunded in full. If you are a "no show", your deposit will be forfeited.
